Other Program Key Priority Area Description

Aim of Activity *

Bushfire trauma response coordinator will be the single point of contact for individuals and communities to ensure that the right mental health support is offered at the right time. The coordinator will support affected individuals through warm referrals to mental health, and other social supports and promote a joined-up approach to navigating the mental health care system.

Description of Activity *

Recruitment and deployment of an appropriate Bushfire Trauma Response Coordinator across the Adelaide Hills and Kangaroo Island region.

Results expected to be achieved

- Offering Bushfire Trauma Response Coordinators as a single point of contact for individuals and communities seeking mental health supports;
- Providing time-limited service navigation to individuals who require additional assistance accessing the mental health and broader services they need;
- Development of strong coordinated linkages with other government and non-government agencies involved in community development and recovery to ensure complementarity of services and integrated service pathways.

Activity Consultation and Collaboration

Consultation

The Bushfire Trauma Response Coordinator position is critical to help support communication, coordination and a more seamless response. Advice and direction was supplied by the Department of Health regarding key qualities and attributes essential to the role and its success.

Collaboration

At a system level, CSAPHN will be expected to liaise with Local Hospital Networks, Disaster Response agencies and other government and non-government agencies to ensure complementarity of services and avoid duplication of effort or confusion of roles.

At a service level Bushfire Trauma Response Coordinator will offer a single point of contact for individuals and communities seeking mental health supports and provide service navigation to individuals who require additional assistance accessing the mental health and broader services they need.
