Commonwealth Psychosocial Support

Aim of Activity ***

Commission Access Enabler activities in accordance with the CPS Guidance, providing additional service access support to eligible consumers in the Country SA PHN region through the provisions of service navigation support, NDIS testing support, capacity and strengths-based assessments, and regional loading (outreach support).

Services will support new and existing eligible consumers under one consolidated program. Services provided under the CPS Program will be complementary to those available within the region through other government funded psychosocial initiatives and mental health programs, with a recovery and person-centred focus.

These services will aim to:

- Increase functional capacity to live independently in the community.
- Reduce the need for acute mental health services.
- Increase connection and reduce isolation.
- Increase knowledge and skills.
- Increase engagement in daily activities, relationships, and the community.
- Improve or stabilise mental health and wellbeing.
- Improve self-confidence and independence.
- Move towards personal recovery goals.

Description of Activity ***

Commission CPS providers, previously funded through CoS and NPSM arrangements, to deliver access enabler activities that are in line with the Department guidance.

A regional approach to delivering access enabler activities will be employed across the Country SA PHN catchment area to ensure services are relevant to the needs of consumers in their respective regions.

Commissioning of existing psychosocial service providers, as described above, to undertake service navigation activities that are in line with the CPS Guidance and that utilise resources, documents, and the consumer experience survey via the Transition Support Private Portal.

Due to the vast geographical spread of our region, and the diverse needs of communities across the catchment, Country SA PHN have taken a bottom-up approach to implementing service navigation activities in country SA. Acknowledging that “one size never fits all”, Country SA PHN are allowing psychosocial service providers to design service navigation activities that meet the needs of the communities they service rather than us expecting them to use a cookie cutter approach that does not fit the needs of all regions.

Service Navigation Measure continues to be active for our commissioned psychosocial service providers, along with the Country SA Psychosocial Services Directory and providers have been encouraged to update and utilise this resource when undertaking service navigation activities for their region/s.

The NDIS testing activities proposed, and the workforce required to undertake this testing:

- The existing psychosocial workforce will continue to provide NDIS testing/re-testing support to consumers requiring more intensive support than what is provided through the CPS Program. NDIS testing support has been offered since the inception of former Commonwealth funding streams for psychosocial support and will continue to be provided now that these funding streams have been consolidated under the one program. This includes increased support in navigating NDIS application and testing such as completing the Access Request Form and collecting evidence.

The capacity and strengths-based tools utilised and the workforce required to support these assessments:

- Country SA PHN are encouraging our commissioned psychosocial service providers to use the RAS-DS tool to assess CPS program suitability, identify support needs and goals and the period of time clients will likely require supports. Since the program inception, our commissioned psychosocial service providers have been carrying out these assessments using a range of tools such as the CANSAS, Mental Health Recovery Star, and My Better Life Model – capacity and strengths-based tools have been used within our commissioned psychosocial programs since day one. Commissioned psychosocial service providers will continue to carry out these assessments at intake and as well as following any significant events in the life of the consumer which may affect their support needs. The existing psychosocial workforce will be responsible for carrying out these assessments as they have done so in the past.

Regional loading - Any specific activities or strategies being implemented to address the cost of delivering services in outer regional, remote and very remote areas:

- Outreach support to communities that are further way from regional centres is currently being provided through the Regional Loading funding component and direction. To date, outreach locations include the Yorke Peninsula and Pinnaroo, with expansion of services to Coober Pedy and other outer regional, remote and very remote areas.

- This is in recognition of the higher costs of delivering services in these areas and is intended to improve service availability for people with severe mental illness in those communities.

The workforce (specifying any required qualifications and FTE) and activities being undertaken to manage commissioned service providers and contracts:

- Psychosocial services administered by Commissioned Service Providers in country SA include a broad range of appropriately trained and qualified staff within their scope of practice and based on consumer needs including Mental Health Support Workers, Peer/Lived Experience Support Workers, Social Workers, and other appropriately trained Mental Health Professionals.

Acknowledging that recruitment can be tricky in country areas, with a limited pool of available workers, staffing sometimes needs to be more flexible, for example, by allowing providers to recruit personnel who are currently studying towards their qualifications with the caveat that ample supervision and support is provided while they finalise their studies. We have also heard of former CPS participants with a lived experience of mental illness being employed casually to run groups etc. For example, a former participant with an arts degree and community services qualifications now runs art groups in Murray Bridge.

- To evidence that workforce hold the correct qualifications and FTE targets are met, providers are required to submit quarterly credentialling and screening reports to Country SA PHN. Credentialling reports are submitted alongside a finance report and performance report. The performance report allows providers to provide more narrative around staffing including FTE, vacancies, any issues with recruitment, backfill or subcontractor arrangements (where appropriate) and that all staff have completed cultural awareness training.

Aim of Activity *

To continue to provide person-centred recovery focused psychosocial support services to those eligible in the Country SA PHN region with the aim of improving functional capacity, addressing individual unmet need, and complementing clinical mental health and physical health services for people who are not receiving psychosocial support services funded through the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

Objectives of the activity are to:

- Increase access to specialist mental health services for people who experience severe mental illness with associated psychosocial functional impairment residing in rural and remote areas
- Enhance communication and integration between the services involved in consumer care
- Improve outcomes due to taking a more holistic approach to manage mental, physical, social and emotional health needs
- Prevent unnecessary decline in a person's mental health and as such avoid unnecessary and preventable hospitalisation

Introduction of Brokerage funding in 2024/25 which aims to support client's recovery goals/needs as identified in their Recovery Care Plan

Assessment of the market and capability of currently commissioned service providers has supported continuation of existing commissioned psychosocial service providers including Mind Australia, Skylight Mental Health, Uniting Country SA, and Country & Outback Health is the optimal approach for the community. In addition, Centacare Catholic Country SA is subcontracted to provide psychosocial services in Ceduna on the far west coast of SA.

Growth of the market with new providers Moorundi Aboriginal Health Services, Summit Health and Neami National has occurred, in an effort to strengthen the market and create sustainability options in areas of rurality and high need.

Description of Activity ***

In alignment with CPS Guidance, the above providers are commissioned to provide psychosocial support services that strengthen the capacity of consumers to live independently, safely and productively in their community, form meaningful connections in a supportive environment, and reduce the need for acute care in their region. Services can be delivered through a range of formats including individual support, place-based services, group activities and outreach support. The type of support services provided inherently vary from person to person as this is considered when addressing individual needs and goals. In summary, these include a range of non-clinical supports that focus on building personal capacity and stability in areas such as:

- social skills, friendships, and family connections
- day-to-day living skills such as financial management and budgeting
- finding and maintaining a home
- vocational skills and goals
- maintaining physical wellbeing, including exercise
- managing substance use issues
- building broader life skills, including confidence and resilience; and
- building capacity to live independently in the community

While psychosocial support services are non-clinical in nature, these services are embedded within, or linked to, clinical services to support a multi-disciplinary approach to meeting the needs of people with severe mental illness, and form part of a multi-agency care plan. Those requiring more intensive support than what is provided through the CPS program are linked in with more appropriate services and where appropriate encouraged and supported to test for NDIS eligibility.

It should be noted in SA there are clients with complex needs requiring more intensive supports for longer. State services in SA are often at capacity and there are limited NDIS supports. At times, this impacts patient flow within the CPS program in country SA. Whilst every effort is made by commissioned service providers as detailed above, it can mean on occasions a wait list emerges in some regions. Country SA PHN are actively working with providers and State to address these issues. This also means we are also noticing a trend within our data with session targets being exceeded and client targets tracking under for the CPS program.

Intake/assessment processes also assess and prioritise vulnerable groups and those with urgent support needs such as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander People and people at risk of suicide. These referrals are triaged immediately as required and appropriate linkages to specialised and/or clinical services are made.

There are clear assessment and information sharing on service expectations at intake ensures consumers are aware of number of sessions to adequately prepare and plan for discharge. If a consumer does not qualify for the service, intake processes will support the enquirer with identifying another local relevant support service to suit their individual needs.

Outcomes will be managed through use of the K-10, K-5, or SDQ assessment tools as required by the reporting of program activities into the Primary Mental Health Care Minimum Data Set (PMHC-MDS). The capture of Patient Reported Experience Measures is also evaluated and considered against overall performance.
